The Parable of the Rich Fool

Read Luke 12: 13 – 21

If this portion of your existence will give you anything from 1 day to 100 or 110 years, but the next portion of your existence is eternal, which one should you be planning for?

People go through life accruing things which ultimately are going to be left behind. We put so much effort into getting more stuff when you cannot take one penny to the next life. That is true whether you are a pauper or a prince. Jesus made clear to his hearers it wasn't wise to put all your preparation into just this life but that the life to come was even more important.

Another way to think of it is to take the long view. A smart person prepares for their pension, a wise person prepares for eternity. Which one are you?
